This crucifix stood on the roof of the Annex building, which was built in 1910 and demolished due to fire in 1971. At that time it was buried underground below where the Holy Providence building stood which became a visitor parking lot.

In 2010 the parking lot was excavated for repairs and the building remains were removed. While excavating, the 100 year old crucifix was removed, restored and presented to the Sisters of the Blessed Sacrament
